Board Of Regents Meet In Regular Session

Nineteen of the twenty regents met in regular session in the month of May. The work of the Home was reviewed and plans were made for the coming year. The Board adopted a budget for the operation of the Home and will make requests to the Synod of North Carolina through its stewardship for the benevolence apportionments as well as presenting a detailed audit report of the finances of the Home to the Synod.

The special concern of the Board was the needs of the boys and girls and of the staff members. The Board deplores the low wage scale and is making every effort to bring the salaries of this place in line with other salaries for like work. The living quarters of the students and the needs that they have are of special concern and the Board continues to give careful attention to these needs and has made plans for the meeting of them in part in the coming year.

The students who travel by bus will be especially delighted with the proposed purchase of a new forty—passenger bus. This will mean no more breakdowns and long waits on the road for the motor to be worked on or some other vehicle to come for them.

Two of the oldest cottages which are beyond redemption will be replaced in the coming year. Funds for these replacements come from special gifts designated for this purpose.

Mr. Fred A. Long of Lenoir was elected president of the Board, Mrs. Lewis Schenck of Davidson, vice-president, and Mr. Charles Hagan, Jr., of Greensboro was re-elected secretary. Mr. W. E. Price of Charlotte, the retiring president, and Mrs. F. L. Smyre of Gastonia, the retiring vice-president, have completed their second terms on the Board and are ineligible for re-election to membership.

Joyner And Bernardo Awarded Medals

During the commencement exercises, Ralph Joyner, a member of the senior class of 1956 received the student Ace Medal award and Hilda Bernardo of the graduating class of 1928 received the alumni Ace Medal award. The member of the senior class is chosen by vote of the student body of the high school and the members of the staff. The former graduate of the Home is chosen by a committee composed of staff members.

Ralph Joyner is one of the four Joyner brothers from Rocky Mount, N. C. Ralph has taken his regular turn in the work of the Home which includes an assignment to the dairy, the orchard, and to the farm. In addition to doing good school work, Ralph has been a regular member of the varsity football team and also the basketball team.

Hilda Bernardo's life since graduation has continued to symbolize the spirit of Barium Springs. While she was at Barium she was one of the editors of the annual, the secretary-treasurer of the senior class, sponsor of the football team, and voted the "most attractive" of her class. After her graduation she took the position of secretary with the Duke Endowment in Charlotte and has continued there until the present time. She is an active member of the Business Women's Circle of the Church of the Covenant, a member of the Business and Professional Woman's Club of Charlotte, a volunteer worker in the Red Cross Blood Bank, and has participated in many other community activities. Upon the day of the awarding of the medal, Dr. Rankin, Dr. Pickens, and the members of the Duke Endowment staff joined other friends of Hilda at Barium Springs to applaud the recognition of this excellent person.

Vacations Begin June 30th

That glorious time of the year when the bags are packed for vacations and the buses roll will come to Barium Springs on Saturday morning, June 30th. The boys and girls will be leaving in the early morning and the staff in the afternoon. The old campus will become quiet for a little over two weeks.

Special effort is being made this year to secure vacation time and place for every child in the Home in his own community. Only a skeleton crew for the operation of the dairy and the mowing of grass will be left behind. These persons will be those who choose to stay. They will make a little extra money during the vacation period and also join in the fun that will be planned for them while they take care of the campus.

NEW TRAINING PROGRAM SET UP FOR CHILDREN'S WORKERS

Chapel Hill—An "on-the-campus" training program for houseparents and others caring for youngsters in children's homes in six Southeastern states was announced today by the School of Social Work of the University of North Carolina and the Southeastern Conference of Workers in Homes for Children, joint sponsors of the project.

The program, which will get underway June 1, is the first of its kind in the country, according to Dr. Alan Keith-Lucas, associate professor of social work here. It will be supported by contributions from 19 children's institutions and by matching funds from the Duke Endowment. A three-year program has been assured

Dr. Keith-Lucas will serve as part-time director for the program. Consultant and associate director will be Alton M. Broten, presently director of the Lutheran Children's Home in Addiston. Ill

The governing board of the project is composed of Dr. Keith-Lucas; Dr. Arthur E. Fink, dean of the School of Social Work; Allan R. Broome, superintendent, Epworth Home, Columbia, S. C.; Claude Corry, superintendent, Bethesda Home for Boys, Savannah, Ga.; Dr. E. F. Gettys, superintendent, John de la Howe School, McCormick, S. C.; Max Livingston, superintendent, Methodist Children's Home, Selma, Ala.; A. B. McClure, superintendent, Barium Springs Children's Home, Barium Springs; Miss Mary Bruce Roberts, superintendent, Hillside Cottages, Atlanta, Ga., secretary; Leon Smith, superintendent, Methodist Home, Richmond, Va., ex-officio member as president of the Southeastern Conference; and General Superintendent W. C. Reed of the Baptist Orphanage of N. C. at Thomasville who is serving as chairman of the body.

"Although there are more than 100,000 children in the United States living in institutions, little attention has been paid to the training of those persons who are primarily responsible for their daily living," Chairman Reed explained. "This is the first attempt to bring such instruction to the campuses on a systematic basis, thus providing an opportunity for training to every houseparent in these 19 institutions. This is a very practical approach and those of us in the child care field are delighted that the University's School of Social Work is cooperating to strengthen this vital phase of our work."

Broten will be primarily responsible for direct service to the institutions concerned, Chairman Reed said. "We are pleased to get a leader of his experience," the Baptist superintendent said. "He has had ten years' experience in institutional work and has been associated with the training courses offered houseparents through the Welfare Council of Chicago and University of Chicago." In addition to his duties in the new training program, he will hold the position of lecturer in the School of Social Work.

Dr. Keith-Lucas has long been associated with institutional work and has taken major responsibility for the annual workshops the University sponsors for executives and houseparents of children's institutions.

FROM LITTLE JOE'S CHURCH

REV. ROBERT R. COLLINS, Minister

To my mind one of the most worthwhile features of the Christian Education program of the church year is the Vacation Bible School. I write this article after having just visited each class in our Bible School. Not only was the quality of work very high, but the enthusiasm of both pupils and teachers indicated to me that all who participated had profited greatly. There were 120 boys and girls enrolled in Bible School this year with classes from the Kindergarten through the Junior Departments. We are grateful to the fifteen teachers and helpers for their diligent work, and to Almighty God who allows us to study His Word in freedom that we may grow in Christian maturity.

Camp time is upon us and soon large groups of our Pioneer and Senior High age young people will be leaving for Camp Grier, our Presbytery Camp at Old Fort. This year we will have twenty-one attending Pioneer Camp for a week, and twelve members of the Senior High Fellowship will be away for over a week. We also have two of our Council members who are on Presbytery's Senior High Council and they will attend a special training camp prior to the regular camp period. The young people of Little Joe's Church appreciate the contributions from across the Synod which make it possible for us to enjoy the benefits of our Christian camps each summer.

As vacation time approaches we all look forward to visiting with relatives, friends and church groups across the Synod. Since most of our large church family will be away the first three Sundays in July, no services will be held in Little Joe's Church on July 8th and 15th. The minister will be away in July but we hope that many of you will make a special effort to worship with us during your vacation in the last of July or the month of August. We always enjoy our visitors.

SUMMARY OF THE YEAR APRIL 1, 1955-MARCH 31, 1956

The seasons roll, the year passes, and the time comes for another report. The blessings of God have been manifest in the life of the Home and unto Him we would offer praise and thanksgiving. We would acknowledge the great Head of the Church, Jesus Christ, to be the head of this Home and earnestly hope its manner of operation this year has been to His honor and glory.

Printing: In January, 1956, the printer, Edwin K. Kyles, died of a heart attack. Since that time the print shop has been operated only for small items of the office and the mailing of the Messenger. The printing of the paper has been done in Statesville by the Brady Printing Company. Applications are on file for replacement but nothing has been done because of the uncertainty which exists in relationships of print shops on orphanage campuses to Interstate Commerce regulations. One shop on another campus is being investigated by the Department of Labor to the end that it may have to meet the requirements of Interstate Commerce. It would be unprofitable for us to operate under such a plan. If and when this matter can be settled the Home will proceed on the most sensible program, continuing with the print shop if possible; if not, securing the printing done outside and the mailing done by the Home. Since the shoes were repaired in the print shop by the printer, it has also been necessary to have this done in Statesville. This will be continued in the year to come.

Farm, Dairy, Orchard, Poultry: The farm under the direction of Mr. J. F. Stinson, produced abundantly. 6,000 bushels of small grain, the most in the history of the farm, were harvested. Approximately 3,000 bushels of corn and 170 tons of silage corn, were stored. 76 hogs were killed, making more than ten tons of meat for the table. Lespedeza seed, lespedeza hay, alfalfa hay, straw, and seed corn were other items of production. Mr. Stinson says that the general condition of the farm is as good or better than he has ever known it.

The early gardens suffered tremendously from the freeze in the spring of '55; however, the output of vegetables for the table was greatly increased, though not entirely satisfactory. Mr. Luther Thomasson, the gardener, has high hopes for this year's production and believes that the two-year experiment which is now in the second year can demonstrate the wisdom of the procedure. The growing of chickens is also under the direction of Mr. Thomasson and the year was about as satisfactory as could be expected under the present arrangement. There can never be a good job done in raising chickens until the houses are built near enough to the campus for the students, under the direction of an adult, to take care of them. This move should be made within the next twelve months and the matter of chickens and eggs should become a big item in the profit column.

The dairy is still under the direction of Mr. Arthur Hanks. It appears to all who know the facts that this has been a good year. When the Home was forced to use processed milk, a thorough study was made of the whole matter, seeking opinions from the experts of State College, from practical operators nearby, and from the people of the County who are qualified to know the answers to questions in dairying. It was concluded that Barium Springs could best proceed in the matter of dairying by culling its herd and making good replacements in the Holstein breed. Additional cows were to be secured in order that the Home might produce sufficient milk to offset the price paid for the milk purchased. It is expected that in the year to come the dairy will be able to produce the one-third more than purchased in order to break even on the expenditures of processed milk. The beef herd is growing slowly and continues to be a real source of satisfaction as a supplement to the meat diet. There is still room for additional white-face cattle.

The orchard last year suffered an entire loss in the peach crop and produced only about 300 bushels of apples. This was almost a total fruit loss for the year. The orchard man, Mr. Woodrow Clendenin, reports 800 apple trees and 600 peach trees in good condition. This year the early cold snap got all the peaches on the young trees, but it appears now that there will be a sixty percent peach crop and a fine apple crop. Thus, we can replenish our storehouse with canned peaches, apple sauce, etc., and also have fresh fruit for the children in the summer and through the winter.

Plant Operation and Maintenance: In the matter of maintenance it is hoped that progress is being made. At times, however, it seems that only the emergencies are being met. In the year just closed the Lottie Walker Building, the Elementary School Building, the Grier home, the Calhoun house, the Quads (Johnston, Wallace, Stultz, and Cannon) received special attention in the way of painting, repairs, and replacement. It is doubtful that many of the buildings can ever be restored and, therefore, the only satisfactory solution is their removal and replacement with new one-story fire-proof buildings. The two cottages now housing small boys and small girls, just north and south of Rumple Hall, will be replaced in the near future.

The farm and dairy buildings are in a very poor state of repair. This is not new as this condition prevailed in 1950 and, I am sure, many years prior to that.

Case Work: The Case Work Department is understaffed and, therefore, overworked. It is generally recommended that there be one case worker for every fifty children in a Home. Our case work is handled by Miss Rebekah Carpenter. She finds herself more than busy as she deals with the children to be admitted and the ones who are already in the Home. Our enrollment shows that there are now 95 girls and 128 boys, making a total of 223 children in the Home. It is interesting to note that of this number 9 are full orphans; 52 having living fathers; 46 have living mothers; 116 have both parents living. This is about typical of all other homes. During the year April 1, 1955 to March 31, 1956, 39 children were admitted.

Christian Education: The worship services in the new Church continue to be a great source of inspiration. With the commencement exercises this year, we feel that the Church has reached full fruition in its services. Not only have the regular services of worship been held, but there have been funeral services, one wedding, church members received, infants baptized, and now the commencement services held in it. All who have seen it have expressed gratitude to God for its loveliness and for what it does to the campus day and night in its witness of Him. The Church School and cottage instruction and religious programs for all ages have been the regular part of the life of the Home. The new year holds out hope for additional accomplishments through the duly established processes, plus additional training that may be offered through the Elementary School in religious instruction. There seems to be an entirely harmonious procedure in the life of the Home and Church in this important business of nurturing children in the things of God.

Education: The school on the campus operated successfully. Mr. R. G. Calhoun, the principal, and his fifteen teachers have carried on the regular academic program and the extra-curricular activities, such as athletics, Beta Club, etc. The announcement of the proposed change in removing the high school to Troutman has been well received. No former student or interested person in the Home has expressed anything but pleasure in this prospect for the children in going to the Troutman School. The children of the Home, while expressing some anxiety about the new venture, look with some real satisfaction toward the enlarged life that will be theirs. Mr. S. H. Helton, Superintendent of the Iredell County Schools, has accepted the ninth and tenth grades at Troutman for next year. The eleventh and twelfth grades will remain at Barium Springs. Possibly, during the year the new school building in process there will be completed and the change may be effected in its entirety in the fall of 1957. If not, it will be completed in the fall of 1958. The removal of the high school to Troutman will offer more space for the Elementary School and with the additional required equipment, the Elementary School can become accredited.

SUMMARY OF THE YEAR

In the coming year it is proposed to continue the varsity sports program under the direction of the Home in the same manner that we have been doing through the high school; however, the small number of students makes it appear that football in the Home's program as a varsity sport may of necessity have to be discontinued in the near future. That bridge can be crossed when it is reached.

Health: The Health program is good. Doctors Lafferty and McLauchlin in their general physical examination in January expressed great satisfaction in the care afforded the children. The infirmary on the campus, Dr. Bonner on call in Troutman, and the full services of Davis Hospital afford the boys and girls of the Home excellent care in the time of illness. The dental program, under the direction of the committee and carried out by Dr. Smith Kirk, is an excellent piece of work. The children are getting expert care. It is anticipated that in the new year the services of Dr. Davenport of Hickory will be secured for orthodontia, and that the children who need to have their teeth adjusted or straightened can receive this service also.

A new feature has come into the Health Program. Dr. Alanson Hinman of the Department of Pediatrics in the Bowman Gray School of Medicine in Winston-Salem is initiating a program of Child Guidance. He and his assistant are at present visiting the campus every two weeks. Through this process students who need his services are given proper scientific guidance. Dr. Hinman is a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Winston-Salem and his services will cost us little, but it is agreed that a necessary amount should be placed in the budget in order to carry this program if and when someone else succeeds him.

It can be said that one of the reasons for good health is the good food. The dining room and kitchen and total campus now rate Grade A. Of this we are very proud and for this we are very grateful. In the new year even more attention can be given to the meals, particularly enlarging on the first meal of the day (breakfast) for the older boys and girls.

Finances: The operation of the Home for the year 1955-1956 has been within the approved budget of the Board of Regents. The superintendent has requested the members of the Board to be exceedingly diligent in thoroughly informing themselves as to the Home's operation and as to the wisdom of the procedures that are taken. The advice and counsel of the Finance Committee has been sought and also that of every member of the Board in working out a salary scale adequate for services rendered and in keeping with the standards of the day.

It has been the conviction of all those connected with the Home that the Presbyterians of the Synod of North Carolina will meet any need that exists on the campus if they can be assured that the money is expended wisely. Let it be said again this year that The Board will give attention to the needs of the Home and so interpret them to the Synod and the Stewardship Committee as to receive due consideration in the apportioning of funds from the Benevolence Budget.

Conclusion: The year just closed has offered greater satisfaction in the work than any of the preceding five. The response of the staff and of the students in the program of the Home has been gratifying. The splendid service rendered by the members of the staff is a thing of which the Synod of North Carolina can be proud. Their willingness to toil long hours with inadequate equipment characterizes the high quality of their devotion. A new generation of students makes it possible to alter old procedures without too much friction and to gain a cooperative effort from the student body. The changes in housing, the changes in school procedure and other plans yet to be put into effect give real hope for continued good work in the Home.
